POETRY.

THE PRIZES OF LIFE.

A youth leapt out from childhood's thrall,
His onward course to run,
With stern resolve to rise or fall,
By duties bravely done.
He reck'd not ways that led to pain,
Nor thought he of the past;
His only hope was hence to gain
The student's prize at last.

The boon was gained, while yet the spring
Was in its golden prime;
Ere birds had tuned their throats to sing
The joys of Summer time.
Those days now gone, the strife and din
Of commerce bind him fast;
The youth has yet a prize to win—
A home through life to last.

The same proud seal that lent him power
The boy's bright goal to reach,
Still hands him forth, in sterner hour,
To do what parents teach.
No more he heeds the coldly wise,
Who round him dangers cast;
For now he holds life's golden prize—
A trusting heart at last.

'Tis thus ambition leads us on,
From childhood unto age;
No price so high but may be won,
At each succeeding stage.
Let youth be warn'd, though fate seem hard,
And hope be overcast,
How oft in life our first reward
Leads onward to the last!

FAREWELL MEETING OF "THE BAKER'S DOZEN."

On Monday evening, July 1st, occured one of those pleasant little scenes which sometimes come to us, to vary the routine of life and enable us to see more clearly the beauty and strength of true friendship and harmony among men. It may be well to state, for the benefit of our readers, that "The Baker's Dozen," so called, is a Literary Society, consisting of thirteen gentlemen, members of the State Normal School, who during the early part of the last summer term, organized this club, for the purpose of mental culture. The organization of the society was somewhat peculiar, and on this peculiarity, rested undoubtedly, its success. The society had no officers except a Secretary, no Constitution or by-laws, and no rules of order, except such as the good sense of the members should dictate to them from time to time. The manner of conducting each meeting, was agreed upon from week to week, one of the members acting as Chairman, for each meeting, and each succeeding the other, in alphabetical order. Every measure adopted in the society was done so by a unanimous vote. Thus free from all jealousies, petty difficulties, and party spirit, this little society pursued the path it had chosen, accomplishing little by little, its worthy object, and constantly cementing more friendly the bonds of unity and brotherly love. But to all pleasant scenes and associations, there must ultimately be an end; and as "The Baker's Dozen" could not be excepted from this inexorable rule, Monday evening, the last of the term, was selected as a time to sever these golden chains which had bound us so pleasantly together, and to exchange our farewell greetings. At the appointed time, the "Dozen" assembled at the rooms of Vail & Maxwell, whose reputation as furnishers of ice-cream and strawberries, is undoubted by all lovers of the article. In addition to the usual thirteen members, an equal number of fairer faces graced the circle, adding largely to the pleasant "features" of the occasion. When seated at the table, which had been supplied by "mine host," the minutes of the last meeting in Parson's Art Gallery, were called for, and given in a pithy and humorous style, by the Secretary, E. K. Hill. Following this, the Society, in "Committee of the Whole" took up the discussion of the question which had been "laid on the table" by the worthy proprietors, and in which the ladies joined with fluency of speech and appropriate gestures, the latter being of that peculiar kind in which sameness is not monotonous or tiresome.

Thus time on merry wings, flew by unheeded, and with no more serious occurrence than the sudden sinking of the seat which contained the worthy Chairman. This was doubtless caused either through weakness in the chair, or a large appropriation of edibles on the part of the incumbent, or in consequence of the weighty responsibilities resting upon him. This was shortly followed by a motion that the Committee rise, which being agreed to and acted upon, the fragments, somewhat less than "twelve baskets" were removed. Next followed a song and chorus, composed for the evening,—the words being written by the poet of the club, W. Cary Hill, and the music composed by W. Henry Russell.

We append the words:

I.

"With steady flow the summers go
Through changing hours of sun and rain,
And as they part leave in each heart
An interchange of joy and pain.
For friendships born in summer's morn
Shall shed their fragrance and their bloom,
Adown the gray and joyless day
That darkens into winter's gloom.

CHORUS,

The brothers join, the chorus join,
Let song and gladness rule the hour,
With joyful heart sing ere we part,
"The Baker's Dozen" evermore.

II.

Our "Baker" leads as well as feeds,
Our "Maltman" promises good cheer;
Our "Davis" he is not J. D.,
"Sabine" and Edwards too are here.
In "Burroughs" we delight you see,
Our "Campbell" has a charming voice;
Our festive "Hall" enfolds all, [choice.
And each takes up with "Hopkin's"

CHORUS:—The brothers join, &c.

III.

The summer gales among the "Hills" [song;
With sober "Russell" (rustle) join the
And jovial "Smith" who is no myth
Nor black, although he's rather long.
Each holds his part in every heart,
And shall wherever we may roam,
For every name shall memory claim
And link it with our Normal Home.

CHORUS:—Then brothers join, &c.

IV.

Then join again the glad refrain
Let willing hands the bumper pour,
And pledge in song remembered long
"The Baker's Dozen" evermore.
For friendships born in summer's morn,
Shall shed their fragrance and their bloom,
Adown the gray and joyless day
That darkens into winter's gloom."

CHORUS:—Then brothers join, &c.

After a few moments more of pleasant social intercourse, Mr. Maltman was called for, who thus addressed the house in his usual happy manner:

"I congratulate myself on being one of "The Baker's Dozen, for until our time, no baker has produced such a batch. Gentlemen, whether you be loaf or rusk, gingersnap or pie, you bear evidences of good raising and thorough kneading. You have been well baked—no trace of dough is left—(the present company accepted)—in a word gentlemen, you have been done up brown. The "Dozen" has always been to me a subject of admiration: and what shall I say of it tonight with its fair increase? In the Haymakers we sang: "Thanks be to him who has given us the increase." Let me quote from that song, and say: "Thanks be to Him who has given us the increase.,' To night we come to make merry, not to the war dance.—Although each gentleman on entering the hall was securely "armed," I know your intentions are of the most peaceable character, War has been raged against the "Dozen," but like the Philistines, the enemy attacked themselves, and I am happy to say, they have obtained a great victory. To them be all the glory of it."

He closed by saying: "Long live "The Baker's Dozen," and their ladies too—and in all that is good, true, gallant, and glorious, may no members become stale."

W. Cary Hill was next called to the floor, and spoke as follows:

"Much as I have enjoyed the remarks of the gentleman, I confess that my feelings tonight partake more of a quiet, almost sad happiness, than of gaiety. I find myself reviewing the history of the term, and asking myself what especial mission our little society has had to perform for us, as students, and in the mutual feeling with which we part, (many of us never to return again) as contrasted with feelings that have prevailed in other terms, I find my answer. In the life of each of us, as in that day in the "Poets Journal." Two troops of duplicated hours tread out the moments," and we are prone to walk forever in the shallower stream of life, with a foolish contest, indulging in its petty rivalries, jealousies, and bickerings, heedless of the broader, deeper, channel of a truer manhood, where lie the priceless germs of true friendship, and those sentiments that awaken and cultivate our nobler faculties. In this little band I can speak plainly. When I remember that in other terms, there have been among us, feelings that have prevented hearts with kindred hopes and kindred thoughts, from meeting and clasping,—feelings, that with us who leave forever, would have clouded our memories of Normal hours,—I know that something was needed to arouse us to a position more worthy of our manhood. And as I look around upon our numbers, and know that there is no heart that is not bound to the others by the most sacred bonds of friendship, I feel it no irreverence to say that, to more than one of us, "The Baker's Dozen" was one of "God's grand occasions floating by."

The words of the speaker well spoken as they were, touched the tender chords which thrilled in the heart of every member.

Geo. H. Hopkins being next called out, responded with some interesting remarks on the history of the society, its mode of operating, the opposition from envious outsiders, which it had met and successfully overcome; the work accomplished, &c. He alluded to the feeling of kindliness and good will which had been developed, closing with a few timely and well selected expressions of fraternal regard, and good wishes for the future of each member.

The remaining gentlemen, Messrs. Baker, Burroughs, Edwards, Campbell, Davis, E. K. Hill, Russell, Sabin and Smith, were successively called to the floor, each responding briefly and to the point. Then with speech and song and social greeting, the little party were beguiled into forgetfulness of time's rapid flight, till well among "the wee sma' hours." At last, with regrets that moments so pleasant, might not last, the circle was broken; each member carrying away new and pleasant recollections,—not a few possessed of nobler and better resolutions—each with a new gem, bright and beautiful, to place in memory's casket.

The Philosophy of Drunkenness.

Dr. James C. Jackson, of Dansville, N. Y., has written a searching dissertation upon "The Philosophy of Drunkenness." The Dr., whom we personally know, has had a very large experience as a professional man, in the study and diagnosis of diseases very largely if not mainly induced by abnormal dietetic habits and the use of stimulants, of all kinds and forms, having for fifteen years, probably, never had less than a hundred patients under his charge. Aside from the logical force of his reasoning, the conclusions clinched by so ripe an experience as a physician, are worthy of the serious attention of all who are striving for reform in the various temperance movements of the day. The pith of his reasoning will be made apparent by the following extracts:

I have never known a person who habitually used ardent spirits whether as a beverage or medicine, no matter what the form of the mixture, whether distilled, fermented or brewed, "who was not an inordinate eater." Gluttony is a condition precedent to drunkenness, insomuch that it is questionable whether a human being ever became habitually inebriate where habitual over-eating did not at first exist. If this statement be true—and in the case of no moderate drinker nor confirmed drunkard have I ever found an exception—then it presents to the friends of temperance matter for serious consideration. In this connection I offer a few facts:

I. As far back as we have credible tradition or history of the dietetic and drinking habits of mankind, we find that there first use of and dependence on stimulants begin in connection with food. They either eat or drink at meals substances which, aside from the nutriment contained in them, are either irritants to the blood or exhaltants to the nervous system, and thus excite the heart's action, thus producing unnatural evolution of vitality, and slowly though surely establishing a habit of body whereby vigor is to be had only when the blood is charged with them and the nervous system affected thereby.

II. It is noteworthy how in this direction the law of development of appetite for stimulants takes place.

(a) Excitements—Flesh of animals. Our children as soon as weaned are permitted to use animal food.

(b) Irritants—Along with flesh they are permitted to use spices.

(c) Nervines—They generally use tea, coffee, though their parents apologize there for that they do not use it strong. Why they might not be permitted to do so is not obvious, if not there is nothing hurtful in it.

(d) Narcotics—Tobacco and drug anodynes. I never knew a person who drank no tea or coffee, nor used any spices nor flesh meats who used tobacco.

(e) Stimulants—These comes last as if it were that in order to their use at all, previous preparations are needful, which in most instances I think is true. If it be so, if in order to addict one to the habitual daily use of the ardent spirits in some form, a dietetic education must be had before any liquor is drank, whereby the nervous system has to become abnormal, then it is not very difficult to get a glimpse at least of the greatness of the work which the friends of temperance have before them in order to induce the people of the United States to become totally abstinent from its use. For myself, devoted to the temperance cause as I have been for forty years, and pledged to disuse alcohol in all its forms, and to discourage its use in others, and to work heartily and lovingly with others on the present platform, I confess to no hope or expectation of great, general, lasting good to the people of the Republic through their abandonment of the use of intoxicating drinks while their present dietetic habits remain. They are victims to the curse—not martyrs to it. From the dawn of intelligence they are miseducated, from the awakening of conscious appetite they are badly and perversely trained. In this course of false education and perverse training, temperance men bear an active part. Like the rest of the people they teach and in their personal lives they illustrate their teachings, 1st, that Stimulants are needful for the preservation of health, and 2d, that they are essential to the restoration of health.

Temperance doctors and liquor doctors alike teach these falsities.

Temperance ministers and liquor ministers alike teach them.

Temperance lecturers and liquor-dealing lecturers alike advocate them.

Temperance mechanices and liquor mechanics, temperance teachers and teachers who drink, temperance students and drinking students alike agree with respect to them.

Temperance mothers who nurse and liquor drinking nursing mothers both agree as to the need of the use of stimulants, which are innutrient—having in them no constitutents out of which blood can be made. How then can it be hoped or expected that abstinence from alcoholic drinks will be accepted as the true philosophy of life for them by any large proportion of our people?

A Startling Discovery.

A party of young people, recently amusing themselves at the house of Rev. Mr. White, near Terre Haute, Indiana, were suddenly somewhat startled on hearing the croaking of a frog in their midst.

While they were vainly searching for the strange visitant—an unwelcome one certainly in a front parlor—they noticed that one of their number, a young girl of 17, named Mary Copaxi, turned as white as a sheet and laid her hand upon her breast.

The croaking continued, and Miss Copaxi suddenly uttered a terrible scream and swooned away. As her young companions gathered round her, applying the proper restoratives, they made a startling discovery that thrilled them with horror!

Mr. White coming in at this juncture, inquired as to the meaning of the strange tumult, and was informed that the croaking of the frog was heard proceeding from the stomach of Miss Copaxi.

Yes, there could be no mistake, the noise of the frog came from the young girl!

She swooned away three times before the kind minister could inspire her with sufficient hardihood and coolness to endure her misfortune as became a Christian; and her companions were obliged to carry her home in a carriage.

Dr. Williams, a promising young surgeon, on a visit to some relatives in this place, was immediately sent for. He perceived at once that his patient was a difficult case; but with remarkable self-possession and a steady hand he at once proceeded with the work which could alone save the girl's life. Before night he had made an incision in the flesh just below the breast, and extracted a large, green speckled frog, almost four inches in length.

The girl is now doing well, and will recover.

A Queer Courtship.

In a small country town in Hartford county, Ct., a widower who had acted the part of a brute and tyrant to his wife, went shortly after the demise of his spouse, to pay his respects to a buxom widow, who, like her suitor, had not the best reputation for sauvity of manners and meekness of temper.—The following colloquy ensued:

"Well, madam, I am come to see you."

"Well, you may just clear out again for I'll have nothing to do with you,—You needn't think to get me. You abused and whipped your first wife, and I know what kind of a fellow you are. You can bet high on that!"

"Yes, I did, and if I had you I'd make you toe the mark. I'd give you a good thrashing every time you deserved it, and I wouldn't let you vote if every woman in town ran to the polls with a ballot in her hand."

Strange as it may appear, this very loving and romantic couple were united in the "holy bands of padlock" three days afterward.

"Was ever woman in this humor woo'd?
Was ever woman in this humor won!"

INK STAINS.—Housewives who are horrified at the sight of ugly ink-stains will like to get hold of a receipt for removing them: The moment the ink is spilled, take a little milk and saturate the stain: soak it up with a rag, and apply a little more milk, rubbing it in well. In a few minutes the ink will be completely removed.

COPPERAS AS A DISINFECTANT.—Green copperas dissolved in water will effectually concentrate and destroy the foulest ordors, and if placed under a bed in sick rooms will render the atmosphere free and pure. Dissolved copperas sprinkled about skins and other foul places will make the air about them healthy.

THE AMERICAN COOKING STOVE!
After twenty years experience in the manufacture of stoves, we became convinced, some six years since, that a vast amount of money was being expended by the people of this country, in buying cheap and almost worthless stoves, a large portion of which was wasted; and that true economy consisted in buying the best stoves that could be made, notwithstanding the price was higher. With this view we proceeded to construct the American Cooking Stove, and spared no pains or expense to make it the best and most perfect stove that could be made. And we have experimented with it, and carefully watched its operation for the last six years, and when an improvement suggested itself, we have at once adopted it, and we have several of these improvements secured by letters patent. In this manner, we do not hesitate to say, we have brought it to a higher state of perfection than has heretofore been attained in cooking stoves. The recent improvements in this stove has added largely to its convenience and effectiveness. In all the varieties of stoves we manufacture, we study usefulness, durability, convenience and economy in operation, rather than cheapness in price, and in so doing we are satisfied we study the interest of those purchasing our stoves.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY.

FREE PRESS ON SUFFRAGE.

The Free Press, in a lengthy article, says:

"Under any circumstances we should oppose the granting of the privilege, until it was done in other states, even if we deemed our own negroes fitted for and entitled to it."

The misfortune of the Free Press is that it is always on every subject that pertains to the advancement of man, the progress of the race, about a quarter of a century behind the age. Michigan, actually in advance in educational and religious advantages of all the States in this Union, must wait until all the rest of the states, even rebel Kentucky and benighted Delaware, have extended equal and exact justice to their citizens—then far back in the rear, timidly and tremblingly on the tag end of the last lagard, but our own, enfranchise the few blacks in our State. Instead of other States being able to point to Michigan as a noble example, and emulate it, we must bear the stigma of being among the most backward. If enfranchisement of the negro is right, then let us do it. If wrong, then though a thousand States should take the lead, let Michigan refuse to be dragged into the wrong.

CURRENT EVENTS.

We have no pity for Maximilian.—Our pity is frozen, when we read the history of his acts. By a decree, signed with his own name, he ordered the enslavement of the whole laboring population of Mexico. The masses were to be enslaved, and become serfs and bondsmen to the capitalits of the country, and to foreigners who chose to buy them. It was this great crime of the foreign tyrant that aroused the Mexican people. He then ordered that all who resisted his authority in endeavoring to regain their liberty should be shot as soon as captured.—Gen. Ortego and hundreds of others were thus shot down. Says the N. Y. Evening Post:

"These acts show that if ever a man invited the fate which has now befallen him, it was this Austrian archduke, whose own cruel and bloody decrees suffice to stamp him an enemy to mankind."

Congress is repairing the damages inflicted by Stanbury. The measures proposed are to place the rebel States under stringent military rule, giving generals in command full sweep to remove, under Gen. Grant's supervision, all obnoxiovs civil officers, and limiting registration to loyal men. A committee to investigate the assassination of President Lincoln has been appointed, and Gen. Butler placed at the head of the committee.

A vote of thanks has been given to Sheridan. The Constitutional Convention is in session again. We hope to see rapid progress now.

HORSE FAIR.

The grounds, just west of the city, of Summit street, are handsomely located, on well adapted, porous soil.—The track is in splendid condition; 50 feet wide. The Association is composed of many of our best and most public-spirited citizens. Some of them are so fond of good horses that they would about as soon think of ceasing to breathe as to be in non-possession of one or more horses. The Association are determined that the vices, &c., that have disgraced horse fairs and race tracks elsewhere shall find no covert on their grounds. All intoxicating drinks, vulgarity and gambling are strictly forbidden, and it is made a place where the most stringent lover and observer of morality—husbands and wives, brothers and sisters, citizens—may witness the first-class horses of the country—a trial of their bottom and speed, and not be offended. The Association has boldly begun this reform, and we trust they will persist in it. Doing this, it will become famous in the entire country.

Premiums were awarded to the owners of those horses that approved themselves the best and fleetest.

FIRST DAY.

Four year old colts, trotting to harness, mile and repeat contested the arena. Mr. H. Fairchild's brown mare, "Maggie," won the first premium, $25. Best time made, 3:10.

Next, horses were entered, that had never beaten three minutes in public, mile heats, best 3 in 5 to harness, premium $35. Mr. Draper's "Railroad" distanced all competitors, except John P. Dale's "Gray Charley"—time 2:55, The second trial "Grey Charley" was distanced, "Railroad" winning the premium. Third race was a running one, half mile and repeat, catch weights—Uncle Ned took the 1st premium, $75. and Ned Eagle the 2d, $25. Single carriage horses were next in order, driven to buggies, combination of qualities to be considered by judging. Phil Sheridan took the first premium, $20, and Lady Hooper the second, $10. The show of horses in this class were so fine that the judges were puzzled in awarding merits.

SECOND DAY.

We were present and witnessed the trial speed of horses on a regular, graded track, for the first time in our life. It was said by those who were present the entire three days, to have been the most exciting of the three. Three pacing horses were entered, mile heats, 3 in 5, to harness. Prof Plumb and Hon. A. C. Blodget, who sat by our side, declared for Lamplighter before the trial. The Professor is a great lover of horses, and a splendid judge of their qualities. Lamplighter did not deceive his new acquaintances, shutting out "Chs Welch" in the first heat and Chemung in the 2d. Time 2:36—winning the premium—$60.

The second race was thoroughly exciting. Every Ypsilantian was on the tip top shelf. Horses entered were those who had not trotted in public better than 2:50, mile heats, 3 in 5 to harness. 5 horses contested for the $75 premium. After the first trial it was manifest that the contest was to lie between "Bally," a horse owned and driven by our fellow-citizen Mr. A. Bentley, and "Lady Lexington," owned in Detroit. The latter is ahead the first trial. The 2d Bally wins, and the result is very much in doubt. 3d trial—Bally's praises are on every tongue. 4th. A world of intense interest is written on every countenance, first half mile, 3d quarter Bally breaks Lady Lexington passes—and swiftly leading they pass the Judges' stand, but at the 1st quarter, 2d round, Bally passes—4th quarter, neck and neck—the Lady gains—in 6 rods of the score—she will win—but no, friend Bentley, self-collected, bound to gratify the sympathizing throng of friends, gives Bally one light loving stroke, and away he darts and comes up to the score a neck ahead, and one deafening shout greets glorious Bally and his driver. He made 2:48. The third contest was between two equestriennes—Mrs. Brown and Mrs. Saunders were the competitors. They rode splendidly, gracefully, like two queens. The Judges were unable to decide as to the merits of the two, and awarded $15 to each.

THIRD DAY—THE 4TH.

There was a large attendance—over 1500. The first contest was for teams trotting to pole, mile heats, best 3 in 5. 1st premium $50, 2d, $20. The following is the

The next race on the programme was a running one, of which the following is the

We take the remaining exciting scenes of the day as described by the Free Press:

The next race was considered the event of the day. It was for horses trotting, mile heats, best three in five, to harness, 1st premium, $250; 2nd, $50. For this race there were only two entries, J. D. Franklin's "Grey Eagle" and Wm. McLauhglin's "Lady Ellis." As these horses are to trot for $1,000 on the Hamtramck course, on the 12th of this month, their meeting here to-day was a matter of considerable interest. "Grey Eagle" was the favorite at some odds, however, as his ability around the short turns on a half-mile track is pretty well known. "Grey Eagle" was in splendid condition, in fact it was thought by some that he never appeared upon any track in better shape. "Lady Ellis" looked well, but did not move quite so nimbly as she did at Ann Arbor the day she trotted the two-mile race with "Melton." In drawing for positions "Grey Eagle" got the pole.

First Heat—After one or two attempts at scoring evenly, they got off well together, at a fine rate of speed. The brown mare kept well up around the first turn, but on the west side she broke, and the stallion got the lead, which he seemed to hold with ease to the end of the heat. Time, 2:39½.

Second Heat—This was a repetition of the last, except that "Grey Eagle" made a slight break on the homestretch, which was caused by the breaking of the tire on one of the sulky wheels. He soon settled, however, and won the heat in 2.39,

Third Heat—This heat was won by "Grey Eagle" with ease in 2:39.

The last race of the meeting was for trotting horses, mile and repeat, to harness, 1st premium $100: 2d premium $25. "Gipsey Queen" and "Dallas" went for this race, but the brown mare won it easily in two straight heats. Time, 5:36, 5:34.

The racecourse is beautifully situated a short distance out of town, and is one of the finest half mile tracks in the State. Back of the grand stand is a beautiful grove, in which is a well of excellent water. It is, in fact, one of the finest places to train horses that can be found anywhere.

A Sabbath at the Lutheran German Church.

We regret not being able to give a detailed account of the services. We never studied German but three months and that was 18 years ago. We were promised a full account, in German, which we should have had translated for our columns—but like many other promises, they failed to come to time. The services at half-past ten A. M., seemed to be of an interesting character to those who could understand. The singing was by the congregation, and animated. One of the leading members said to us—"Our minister makes the best prayers I ever listened to." He appeared earnest in his discourse. The Sabbath school, at 2 P. M., has been recently organized. There were 13 classes, and we counted 70 pupils, fine, bright boys and girls. The singing, led by Miss Watling, in German, would have been more lively if the children could have participated. When the children are supplied with books, we mean to drop in and hear them sing, for we know it must be very interesting.

Hail to the fair, the poet and the sage—
The young, the old, and those of middle age,
And list a theme where muses never tire,
And in each breast a loyal zeal inspire.
Let one and all neglect their good no more,
But buy their Drugs at Dr. Cox's Store:
As pure as ether in the Summer sky,
His medicine and drugs you need but try!
No compounds vile, are found upon his shelf,
For Dr. Cox prepares them all himself.
Here, fresh and fragrant as the Summer flowers,
Are perfumes rare, distilled from foreign bowers.
Soft, odorous creams to beautify the skin,
Rich, tempting cordials to imbibe within;
And creamy soaps, so delicate add pure—
To use them will a satin gloss insure.
Rich powders and pomades, unknown before,
Till Cox produced them at his rival store;
And tinctures, extracts, oils and preparations,
The choicest made, from Foreign importations
All these in great variety you'll find,
While prices suit the most fastidious mind.
In teas and coffees, such a stock is rare—
Too choice and tempting to be found elsewhere
While Groceries of every kind are found
Cheaper and better than the town around.
His wines and liquors, choice and very old,
Need but a trial, and their virtue's told;
And fancy goods, of every kind and use,
That man invents, or art can introduce,
Are here in quantities that cannot fail
To satisfy the crowd, and cause their sale.
To those who come attention will be paid,
By Dr. Cox, who thus solicits trade.
And prompt to duty, always will be there
To counsel and advise, and drugs prepare,
With smiling face, dispensing good to all,
And pleased to favor those who early call.

THE UNION
PACIFIC RAIL ROAD COMPANY,

Are now constructing a Railroad from

OMAHA, NEBRASKA,

westward towards the Pacific Ocean, making with its connections an unbroken line

ACROSS THE CONTINENT.

The Company now offer a limited amount of their

FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS

having thirty years to run, and bearing annual interest, payable on the first day of January and July, in the City of New York, at the rate of

SIX PER CENT. IN GOLD,

AT

Ninety Cents on the Dollar,

This road is already completed to Julesburgh, 376 miles west of Omaha, and is fully equipped, and trains are regularly running over it. The Company has now on hand sufficient iron, ties, etc., to finish the remaining portion ta the eastern base of the Rocky Mountains, 141 miles, which is under contract to be done in September of this year, and it is expected that the entire road will be in running order from Omaha to its western connections with the Central Pacific, now being rapidly built eastward fiam Sacramento, Cal., during 1870.

Means of the Company.

Estimating the distance to be built by the Union Pacific to be 1,565 miles, the United States Government issues its six per cent. Thirty year Bonds to the Company as the road is finished at the average rate of about $28,250 per mile, amounting to $44,208,000.

The Company is also permitted to issue its own First Mortgage Bonds to an equal amount, and at the same time, which by special Act of Congress are made a First Mortgage on the entire line, the bonds of the United States being subordinate to them.

The Government makes a donation of 12,800 acres of land to the mile, amounting to 20,032,000 acres, estimated to be worth $30,000,000, making the total resources, exclusive of the capital, $118,416,000; but the full value of the lands cannot now be realized.

The authorized capitel stock of the Company is one hundred million dollars, of which five millions have already been paid in, and of which it is not supposed that more than twenty-five millions at most will be required.

The cost of the road is estimated by competent engineers to be about one hundred million dollars, exclusive of equipment,

Prospects for Business.

The railroad connection between Omaha and the East is now complete, and the earnings of the Union Pacific on the sections already finished for the first two weeks in May were $113,000. These sectional earnings as the road progresses will much more than pay the interest on the Company's bonds, and the through business over the only line of railroad between the Atlantic and Pacific must be immense.

Value and Security of the Bonds.

The Company respectfully submit, that the above statement of facts fully demonstrates the security of their Bonds, and as additional proof they would suggest that the Bonds now offered are less than ten million dollars on 517 miles of road, on which over twenty million dollars have already been expended;—on 330 miles of this road the cars are now running, and the remaining 167 miles are nearly completed.

At the present rate of premium on gold these bonds pay an annual interest on the present cost of

and it is believed that on the completion of the road, like the Government Bonds they will go above par. The Company intend to sell but a limited amount at the present low rate, and retain the right to advance the price at their option.

Subscriptions will be received in New York by the Continental National Bank, No. 7 Nassau St, Clark, Dodge & Co., Bankers, 52 Wall St., John J. Cisco & Son, Bankers, No. 33 Wall St.,

They will also be sent by mail from the Company's Office, No. 20 Nassau Street, New York, on application. Subscribers will select their own Agents in whom they have confidence, who alone will be responsible to them for the safe delivery of the bonds.

E. P. HARRINGTON, THE CELEBRATED DIVER.

His History--His Submarine Diving on the Fourth--Explanations of the late Accident in Detroit River.

Mr. Harrington began his career as a submarine diver in 1848. His maiden effort was on the propeller Princeton, in Lake Erie, 60 miles west of Buffalo, in 63 feet depth of water. He took off goods at first cost in New York, amounting to $130,000. These goods were sold under the hammer in Buffalo for $44,000. His next feat was raising two large vessels in Buffalo Creek. Soon after he unloaded a schooner at Dunkirk, laden with coal—a difficult feat under water. He proceeded to the Ohio River and emptied a sunken barge filled with pig iron. The burning of the Erie, in 1846, will be remembered by many of our readers. In 1849 an attempt was made to explore the hold of the vessel. A man in submarine armor, by the carelessness of the attendants in not keeping the air pump going, was killed. Mr. Harrington was sent for, penetrated the deep, and brought up the corpse! Next he proceeded to St. Louis and put the chains under one of five vessels burned and sunk. The ice was two feet thick. He froze every nail off from his fingers. There were estimated to be 25,000 people to see the diving. Twelve miles above St. Louis he took off from a sunken vessel 3 engines, 784 barrels of pork, and other valuable produce. The most important job ever done in this country was performed by Mr. Harrington in June, 1856, in Lake Erie, off from Long Point—three miles from shore. The steamer Atlantic had sunk here in 170 feet depth of water—the deepest diving ever done in submarine armor. The American Express safe, containing a value of $53,000 was delivered safe into the custody of the owners. Besides the stipulated reward, the Company presented Mr. H. with a splendid gold watch, which he now wears. On one side of the case is an inscription, commemorating this bold feat—and on the reverse a picture embracing a lifelikeness of Mr. Harrington in the armor, and in the act of going down into the deep on his hazardous errand. Soon after the beginning of the war, he entered the government service, though in the employ of other parties. He had charge of taking up all the obstructions sunk by the rebels, and putting in all necessary on the Union side. He put 144 guns on Morris Island, soon after taken, landing them through the surf. In the dead of night he put a 300 pounder on, the Swamp Angel. This gun threw the first shell into Charleston, and burst at the 23d discharge. It set Charleston on fire three times. He cleared the obstructions in James River, raising a number of vessels—40 tons of chains and 30 tons of anchors. The largest ship ever raised in this or any other country, was at Eastport Navy Yard, at Norfolk, Va.,—named the Delaware—sunk by the rebels. The wheel weighed 480 tons, solid brass. The Merrimack was sunk in the same yard. Mr. H. had the honor of raising these vessels. The steamer Nashville, in Savannah, was loaded with cotton, watching an opportunity to escape with her precious cargo. A Monitor was set to watch her. By means of a torpedo the rebels blew a hole through the bottom of the Monitor, 2½ by 1¼ inches. Mr. H. did the remarkable feat under water of putting an iron patch over the hole and thus fitting her soon after to go into a fight. Mr James Philips, for several years past, has been associated with Mr. Harrington. He was with him at Norfolk and in other dangerous undertakings. He is rapidly acquiring the reputation of a skillful diver. After the war, in 1866, Mr. H. assisted by Mr. Philips, took out of the Lac La Belle, sunk in St. Clair River, a safe containing $26,000, two boxes of silver, 82 tons of copper ore, and all the books and papers. He was telegraphed to Sunday night at 11 P. M. The next day at 5½ P. M., the safe, silver and papers were secured—in one and a-half hour's work. He also raised the Buckeye State in the same river. He raised the Mayflower in 1866, four miles above Detroit, and placed her in Dry Dock. The late accident in Detroit arose from the bursting of the air pipe. He was indebted for his life to the prompt and cool decision of Mr. Philips. Had it not been for the metalic head piece, no human aid could have availed. Such was the the tremendous pressure of the water in 40 feet depth. The pressure was equal to 6000 pounds. The pressure is one-half the depth of water to the square inch. We learned these and the following facts from Mr. Harrington on the 4th. He described the armor—made of rubber and canvass—air and water tight—head piece, breast plate, metalic, weight out of water, 252 pounds—under water these are scarcely a feather in weight. Iron shoes. The armor was invented in England 252 years ago—first a failure because made of leather. Thus laid dormant until 1848. A man by the name of McGowen revived and brought the invention to perfection. The diver must possess a strong constitution—healthy and large lungs—able to endure hard labor—must not have a redundency of of blood—not easily excited. In these particulars all who are acquainted with Mr. H. will gixe him the credit of being greatly advantaged. He stated that he had worked in 63 feet of water, 8 hours and 40 minutes at one time. He has been the most successful as to time and depth of any living diver. He has recovered eleven dead bodies. In his diving on the Fourth witnessed by hundreds, he changed milk in one bottle to another empty one in the water. He stated that he could saw a chain an inch and a quarter in diameter in 12 minutes, using a saw of his own invention. Hon. A. C. Blodget introduced Mr. Harrington to the audience by some happy remarks—rightly calling him "The celebrated diver, who has in this profession given credit to our city." He resides here, an unpretending citizen. It will not be inappropriate to state on our own responsibility, that had Mr. Harrington been himself a contractor with the Government, instead of an employee of a contractor, he would now be in the honest possession of a handsome competence. His ingenuous confidence in the good intentions of others has caused him to be swindled out of thousands. Associated with Mr. James Philips, may better future luck attend him.

To the Editor of the Commercial.

The Fourth at Augusta.

Ypsilanti, July 4th.

According to a plan already announced in your paper, many citizens of Augusta and adjoining towns met in a grove near the residence of Hon. J. W. Childs, of Augusta, to celebrate the anniversary of our national birthday. At half-past ten, the procession appeared, stretching more than a mile, and was followed by others, until at half past eleven the number of persons present was estimated at two thousand. Five lodges of Good Templars, and a large number of Sabbath schools took part in the exercises. The assembly was called to order by Hon. J. W. Childs, President of the day, and exercises commenced according to the programme, as follows: 1st, Music by the Band; 2nd, Union Song, by the Sunday School children; 3rd, Prayer, by Rev. Mr. Gage; 4th, Music—"Greeting Song;" 5th, Reading the Declaration of Independence, by William K. Childs.

Now the heavens began to frown and mutter—not at the smiling Sabbath school children, I ween, nor at the bountiful supply of delicacies which loaded the tables, nor at any part of the well-ordered proceedings, but at the clouds of dust which had all the morning choked the holiday-makers, and soiled their best attire. There was no shower upon the programme, but the obliging master of ceremonies at once assigned it a place, and transposed the dinner and the addresses, arguing that the latter were more substantial, and would bear soaking better than the confectioneries. While sandwiches, cold chickens, pies, fruit and kitchen-built pyramids, were hastening "their appointed ways," the rain came and made sport of curls, bow-catchers, frizzes, starched skirts, and milliners' goods, but was itself laughed at by the rosy-hued cheeks of the queens of the grove, which grew brighter for the washing. Of course, many left after the shower, but more remained in spite of their drenching to hear the Temperance Song, "Hurrah for Prohibition," and the oration of Capt. E. P. Allen, of this city, upon the theme, "The Dangers and Hopes of the Republic."

This earnest address was listened to with close attention, and the speaker's sentiments were enthusiastically applauded, and apparently endorsed by the intelligent audience.

After a song—"The Good Templars are Coming," Prof. Ripley addressed the Sabbath Schools. The children were deeply interested in these remarks, and all saw with regret rain-burdened clouds hovering near, and warning us away. After one more Sunday School song, "The Christian Jubilee," we separated, some of us to toil through another year under a load of "impromptu" toasts and responses, of which we should have been relieved this day if the weather had been more auspicious. The thanks of your correspondent and others are due to Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Childs, for their generous hospitality, and we wish also to express our admiration of the manner in which the celebration was conducted by Mr. Childs and his assistants.

Base Ball.

A matched game of base ball was played on Saturday last, between the Union Base Ball Club of Wayne, and the Eagle Club, of Fowler's corners, in which the Wayne boys beat by a score twice as large as that of their opponents. The first game of the match was played at Fowler's Corners, a week previous, with the following result:

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	Total
Union...	12	6	16	6	1	15	2	0	2	—47
Eagle.....	2	2	0	11	3	6	7	4	12	—35

The Wayne Club was the challenging party.

Wise & Woolcott.

This new firm are introducing one of the best sewing machines—Willcox & Gibbs—ever seen in this market. South side of Congress street, west of National Bank, is their depot. Ladies will do well to call.—A sewing machine is a prime necessity in every household. Wise & Woolcott are agents for Michigan and Northern Indiana. They are men of energy. We wish them great success.

IMPORTANT.—The success of any country depends upon its power to manufacture and produce. If we manufacture nothing, and import every thing, we of course get poor; consequently, it behooves the entire community to use nothing but "Smith's Saleratus," and support home manufacture. He only makes one brand and that is pronounced the best Saleratus in market. It is both pure and uniform in strength, always full weight and warranted to give entire satisfaction.

The glory of man is strength.—Therefore the nervous and debilitated should immediately use Hembold's Extract Buchu.

Sounding his own Praise.—When you hear a man use the Pronoun I every fifth word in his conversation, you may know he is great only in his own estimation; but when you hear the world at large extolling one's virtues as they do Dr. W. Poland's White Pine Compound and Humor Docter, you may know they are reliable.

Helmbolds Fluid Extract Buchu is pleasant and taste inpure odor, free from all injurious properties, and immediate in its action.

Is it Right to put up 14 to 15 ounces in a paper and call it a pound of Saleratus? D. B. De Land & Co. think not, and therefore always put in full weights.

The "Best Machine in the World."—Mrs. D. L. DeGolia says; "I have used the 'twist-edloop' stitch for seven years, and have had nine to sew for; yet I have never known a seam to 'rip'—nor has the machine been out of order. The Wilcox & Gibbs is the best Machine in the World!"

Pure Kerosene (White Oil) 50 cents per gallon, at FROST & WHEDON'S.

"The perfume light
Steals through the mist of alabaster lamps,
And every air is heavy with the breath
Of orange flowers that bloom
I' the midst of roses."

Such was the flowery land filled with healing airs and life-preserving products, where Dr Drake discovered the chief ingredients of his wonderful Tonic Medicine—PLANTATION BITTERS—the enchanted tropical island of St. Croix. The PLANTATION BITTERS, combining all the medicinal and tonic virtues of the healing and life-sustaining products of that favored clime, are, without doubt, the World's Great Remedy for Dyspepsia, Low Spirits, and all other Stomach difficulties.

MAGNOLIA WATER.—A delightful toilet article—superior to Cologne at half price. 2w

Take no more unpleasant and unsafe remedies for unpleasant and dangerous diseases. Use Helmbold's Extract Buchu and Improved rose wash.

THE MASON & HAMLIN CABINET ORGANS.—The highest musical authorities of the land have pronounced in their favor, as meeting a want which has long been felt, and combining more reliable qualities than any other instrument of the character now before the public. Among other advantages in their favor they occupy little space, are gotten up in highly ornamental style, are remarkable for the great volume of sound, the ease with which they are played, the simplicity of their construction, and their adaptation to all kinds of music.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

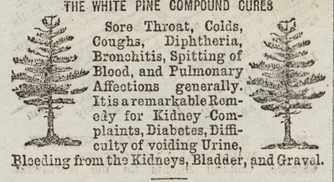
THE GREAT NEW ENGLAND REMEDY!
DR. J. W. POLAND'S
WHITE PINE COMPOUND.



THE WHITE PINE COMPOUND CURES
Sore Throat, Colds, Coughs, Diphtheria, Bronchitis, Spitting of Blood, and Pulmonary Affections generally. It is a remarkable Remedy for Kidney Complaints, Diabetes, Difficulty of voiding Urine, Bleeding from the Kidneys, Bladder, and Gravel.

"It was early in the spring of 1855 that this Compound was originated. A member of my family was afflicted with an irritation of the throat, attended with a disagreeable cough. I had for some months previous thought that a preparation, having for its basis the inside bark of white pine, might be so compounded as to be very useful in the case of the throat and lungs. To test the value of it in the case alluded to, I compounded a small quantity of the medicine that I had been planning, and gave it in teaspoonful doses. The result was exceedingly gratifying. Within two days the irritation of the throat was removed, the cough subsided, and a speedy cure was effected. Soon after this I sent some to a lady in Londonderry, N. H., who had been suffering for some weeks from a bad cough, occasioned by a sudden cold, and had raised mucus streaked with blood. She soon found relief, and sent for more. She took about ten ounces of it, and got well. J. B. Clark, Esq., editor of the Manchester Daily Mirror, made a trial of the same preparation in the case of a severe cold, and was cured immediately. He was so highly pleased with the results, and so confident of success attending its sales if placed before the public, that he finally persuaded me to give it a name and send it abroad to benefit the suffering."

Testimonials.

A very large number of important testimonials have already been received from Physicians, Clergymen, Apothecaries, and, indeed, from all classes in society, speaking in the most flattering terms of the White Pine Compound.

Dr. NICHOLS, of Northfield, Vt., says:

"I find the White Pine Compound to be very efficacious not only in coughs and other pulmonic affections but also in affections of the kidneys, debility of the stomach, and other kindred organs."

Rev. J. K. CHASE, of Rumney, N. H., writes:

"I have for years regarded your White Pine Compound as an invaluable remedy. I can truly say that I regard it as even more efficacious and valuable than ever. I have just taken the Compound for a cold, and it works charmingly."

FROM JAMES J. HOYT.

BRADFORD, N. H., September, 1860,

DR. POLAND: In the Fall of 1857 I took a very violent cold, which brought on a very severe cough, pain in the side and lungs, and raising blood. I was also very badly afflicted with that troublesome disease—the Kidney Complaint. For the three years past I have been very much troubled with my throat and lungs, choking up and raising an immense sight, with a bad cough after raising blood. I felt that my time here must be short unless I soon got relief. This Spring, I was induced to try your White Pine Compound, though my faith in it was small. But to my astonishment, before I had taken two bottles my cough was better, the kidney trouble also, and I could rest nights without choking up and raising so much. I have taken nearly three bottles, and am feeling like a well man.

I would add that my father's family is inclined to consumption, my father, mother, and two sisters having died of it.

The White Pine Compound, advertised at length in our columns, is not only as to its name inviting, but is a highly approved medicine. Dr. J. W. Poland, the inventor, has the confidence of the many who know him, a confidence which he enjoyed while laboring usefully many years as a Baptist minister. His experience as a sufferer led him to make experiments which issued in his medical discovery.—Boston Watchman and Reflector.

A VALUABLE MEDICINE.—Dr. Poland's White Pine Compound, advertised in our columns, is a successful attempt to combine and apply the medicinal virtues of the White Pine bark. It has been thoroughly tested by people in this city and vicinity, and the proprietor has testimonials to its value from persons well known to our citizens. We recommend its trial in all those cases of disease to which it is adapted. It is for sale by all our druggists.—New York Independent.

HALL'S
Vegetable Sicilian Hair Renewer

Has stood the test of seven years trial by the public; and no preparation for the hair yet discovered will produce the same beneficial results. It is a new scientific discovery, combining the most powerful and restorative agents in the VEGETABLE KINGDOM. It restores GRAY HAIR TO ITS ORIGINAL YOUTHFUL COLOR. It makes the scalp white and clean; cures dandruff and humors, and falling out of the hair; and will make it grow upon bald heads, except in very aged persons, as it furnishes the nutritive principle by which the hair is nourished and supported. It makes the hair moist, soft, and glossy, and is unsurpassed as a HAIR DRESSING. It is the cheapest preparation ever offered to the public, as one bottle will accomplish more and last longer than three bottles of any other preparation.

It is recommended and used by the First Medical Authority.

The wonderful results produced by our Sicilian Hair Renewer have induced many to manufacture preparations for the Hair, under various names; and in order to induce the trade and the public to purchase their compounds, they have resorted to falsehoods, by claiming they were former partners, or had some connection with our Mr. Hall, and their preparation was similar to ours. Do not be deceived by them! Purchase the original: it has never been equalled. Our Treatise on the Hair, with certificates, sent free by mail. See that each bottle has our private Revenue Stamp over the top of the bottle. All others are imitations.
